South Pacific

Print logbook courtesy of Royal Newcastle projectionists

There were five key city theatres in Australia equipped with DP70 projectors for the 70mm presentations of SOUTH PACIFIC. The five prints were in circulation in Australia from the 9th November 1960 to the 7th June 1961. The opening seasons for the Hobart Prince of Wales and the Canberra Civic were presented in 35mm.

Reading through the release dates below, Print 1 from the Mayfair Sydney would have been sent to the Astra Parramatta due to the theatre's close proximity to Sydney. Print 2, Print 3 and Print 5 would have remained in their cities despatch. Print 4 from the St James Brisbane [later known as the Paris theatre] may have been sent to the Royal Newcastle for its eighteen-week season prior to the prints return to the Sydney despatch.

In 1964, 1967 and 1970, SOUTH PACIFIC was reissued in 70mm. The notable reissues were, the Sydney Forum, the Melbourne Australia and the First Time in 70mm presentations at the Canberra Capitol and Hobart Avalon.
